

In college, the word "study" includes many activities essential to good grades. Unfortunately, many students do not know what to do beyond rereading and cramming when studying for college level classes.

Below is a list of important activities for college level study. Some must be done on a regular basis while others are done once or twice per semester. It is important to understand that there are many tasks that must be accomplished to do the job of learning efficiently and effectively in college.

That includes a minimum of 3 hours of studying for every hour that you are in the classroom. This will vary depending on courses and majors.

As soon after class as possible.

Beginning from the day of 1st lecture or textbook assignment.

Compare notes, form potential test questions and answers, quiz each other.
